

Analysis of Mental Health in India during Covid-19

Abstract :

The purpose of the study is to fill a void how the media as a whole (including social and electronic media) has impacted the mental health of Indian people in terms of growing anxiety and mental well-being. And analysing Is there any relationship between media use patterns with mental Well-being and Anxiety. And How the demographic attributes are associated with mental Well-being and Anxiety . demographic characteristics here include age (young, middle & old); gender (male & female); habitat (rural, urban municipality & metropolitan city); and educational qualification (undergraduate or below, postgraduate & above postgraduate). This will include prediction of Anxiety and mental well-being scale of a person during covid-19.